

HOW WE CAN HELP BULLIES BECOME BETTER VERSIONS OF THEMSELVES

WHY DO KIDS SOMETIMES BECOME BULLIES? IS IT FROM MIMICKING THEIR PARENTS OR OTHERS, THEIR LACK OF SUCCESS IN SCHOOL, LACK OF EMOTIONAL MATURITY OR SOMETHING ELSE?

Dr. David Sortino will discuss how children evolve to become bullies and what we, as parents and educators can do to steer them away from those behaviors that start from a young age. And for those who are already bullies, he will discuss restorative justice and how it can help teach kids to become mature and resilient.

TUESDAY, JUNE 24TH
7:00 – 8:00pm

Located in the conference room. Free to members. Guest fees apply.

David P. Sortino has an Ed.M. in Education, a PhD in clinical psychology, and certification in neuropsychology. He is the director of The Center for Moral Education and the Neurofeedback Institute and the author of six books.
